1 EXT. LAKESIDE. MORNING

A crazy man (Age 35) from a lakeside finds 2 bones (a human arm bone and a bone of the spine). He inspects the bones. Then he starts walking through the road wandering. Suddenly he bumped into a person. A bone fell from his pocket in front of a schoolgirl. She screams and runs away leaving a school bag. The crazy person is very amused. He peeks the bone and the bag (brings it to his tent).

The crazy man is a collector of items he sees or likes from the lakeside. Many peculiar items are there chaotically. His tent is made using scraps. Also, there is a lamp post, with Mandir written under it, and flowers (that people throw away) are provided to the Mandir. And a dead tree lying beside it. He also has 2 pillars for his guests to sit on. A painter (Age 27) comes as his guest (the painter usually comes to paint and talk). The crazy man looks at him smiling.

Learnings and Outcomes (Self-reflection):

- I learned how to write a short film script with proper formatting.
- I can now build tension and mystery using visuals instead of dialogue.
- I understood how to create a symbolic story that makes the audience think.
- I learned how to structure a scene-by-scene short film narrative.
